Office Mix was designed to enable anyone who presents to take a PowerPoint document, and mix it into an interactive, playable document that can be viewed on almost any device, anywhere with an internet connection. Near-instant analytics make it easy for you to see if students have watched the lesson and how they did on any quizzes you include. These analytics are secure, and for your eyes only. You will know almost instantly if someone has watched your mix, and how they scored on any quizzes you included. You’ll know where to invest your energy and which students need some extra help.

Recording is a lot like making a video with video capture software. But, what sets Office Mix apart is its interactivity and sharing.
