Crime Statistics

The University of Texas at El Paso and the UTEP Police Department have striven to prepare a comprehensive annual report of campus crime statistics to the Department of Justice and the University community obtained from the UTEP Police and El Paso Police departments according to the Uniform Crime Reporting program as defined below. Statistics are compiled and reported annually in this report.

The Texas Department of Public Safety, the Texas Attorney General's Crime Victims Assistance Office of Public Peace and Order, and all federal law enforcement agencies.

2003-2005, security policies and procedures may change as necessary and without notice. The University Police Department: Campus Security and Crime Statistics Information http://www.utep.edu/police

Campus Safety and Security

The primary functions of the University Police Department are the preservation of the peace and order; prevention and detection of crime; apprehension of suspected criminal activity. Responses include but are not limited to:

• Use emergency phones from most parking lots or intercoms in elevators across the campus.
• Request assistance from an officer or uniformed guard on patrol or at one of the public safety stations on campus.
• Investigating reports from the Dean of Students and University officials who have been assigned responsibility for student affairs.
• Dispatching one or more officers to assist campus officials or maintain an awareness of the environment and surroundings may result in increased security and reduced risk. University Police will continue to develop and implement security measures, but the presence of officers on campus does not guarantee the safety of individuals who enter campus is their responsibility.

Crime Reporting

The University Police Department encourages individuals or groups to report crime or potential criminal activity to the university or other law enforcement agency. If you do not recognize a crime or are unsure whether a situation qualifies as a crime, you should contact University Police or other law enforcement agency.

Confidential Reporting

You have the right to report or not to report a crime. However, you have the option of notifying the local police or University Police. If you choose to report a crime, you may also choose to report it to the police department.

Anonymous Reporting

University Police Program: Crime Prevention and Education

The University Police Department will continue to develop and implement security measures, but the presence of officers on campus does not guarantee the safety of individuals who enter campus is their responsibility. Failure to take precautions or maintain an awareness of the environment and surroundings may result in increased security and reduced risk.

— All Greek housing is located off campus. Such facilities are under the control of the University of Texas. After 2003, institutions are now required to share in the responsibility of their safety and the safety of others. Crime prevention programs and services designed to inform our community about campus security aims to educate and inform members of the University community about campus crime prevention and fire safety.

Housing

— Security access gates are located throughout the complex. Guests are required to have a valid university ID.

— Registered student organizations. However, the University has no responsibility for security policies, programs and services employed by the police department include, but are not limited to:

• Orientations to all new students and employees throughout the year.
• Annual crime prevention presentations to campus faculty, staff and students.
• Security Surveys identify areas of vulnerability and are conducted for a number of reasons.

Motor Vehicle Theft

The law requires that institutions of higher education issue a statement advising the campus community of its policies and practices related to the arrest and release of individuals who have been charged with a crime.

Arrest

The UTEP Police Department is responsible for the investigation of all crimes committed on campus property. Most campus incidents fall into the categories of those reported to the University Police Department.

Drug and Alcohol Policies

Alcohol possession, consumption and sale. Individuals and organizations associated with the University are subject to the Rules and Regulations of the Board of Regents or the Texas Education Code and the board’s interpretation of those laws. Sex Offender Registration/Access to Related Information

The United States Department of Justice maintains a national registry of sex offenders who have been convicted of certain sex offenses. The information is available to the public and can be accessed through the Internet. The database is maintained by the United States Department of Justice. The database is updated and maintained by the United States Department of Justice. The database is available on the Internet at http://www.usdoj.gov/otd/sexoffenders.
Crime Statistics

The University Police Department has collected data on criminal and non-criminal violations that occur on the campus or in the surrounding areas. This data is used to assess crime trends and to improve the security and safety of the campus community.

Crime Reporting

The University Police Department encourages all members of the campus community to report any incidents of crime. This includes reporting incidents of alcohol or other drug use, theft, assault, and any other crimes.

Confidential Reporting

Confidential reporting helps the University accurately record crime statistics that are required by the Jeanne Clery Act, which is a federal law that requires institutions of higher education to disclose crime statistics for their campus and for other public area.

Forensic Evidence

It is important to seek and follow-up on medical attention for sexual assault cases. Those who have not taken medical attention may face difficulties in pursuing legal action due to the potential loss of evidence.

Confidential Case Management

Confidential case management helps the University provide support and resources to victims of sexual assaults. This includes providing information about resources, coordinating medical attention, and assisting with legal and crisis intervention.

Forensic Evidence Collection

Forensic evidence collection is crucial in establishing the facts of a sexual assault case. It involves the collection and preservation of physical evidence, such as DNA and clothing.

Aggravated Assault

Aggravated assault refers to the use of force or violence that results in serious injury or death. It is important to seek medical attention immediately after a sexual assault.

Forensic Evidence Storage

Forensic evidence storage is a critical aspect of the sexual assault investigation process. It involves the secure and confidential storage of evidence to ensure its admissibility in court.

Forensic Evidence Examination

Forensic evidence examination involves the analysis of evidence collected during a sexual assault investigation. This includes DNA analysis, medical records, and other physical evidence.

Non-Forcible Sex Offenses

Non-Forcible Sex Offenses refer to incidents of sexual contact without the use of force or violence. These incidents are reported to the University Police Department, and a case management system is in place to assist the victim.

Forensic Evidence Disposition

Forensic evidence disposition involves the final disposition of evidence after it has been collected and examined. This includes destroying evidence that is no longer needed or storing it for legal purposes.

Personal Escort Program

The Personal Escort Program provides faculty, staff, and students with rides to their destinations. This program helps ensure the safety and security of the campus community.

Motorist Assistance Program

The Motorist Assistance Program helps motorists on campus with problems such as flat tires or engine failure. This program helps ensure the safety and security of the campus community.
